Sailor Moon: Super Live! Coming to Chicago in April

Come and See the New Adaptation of the Renowned Manga

CHICAGO, FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE - After its resounding premiere in Japan in 2018 and its successful run in Paris, New York, Washington D.C. and Taiwan in 2019, Sailor Moon: Super Live! is touring North America for the first time, bringing the magic of friendship to the Chicago Theatre for a one time only show on April 15, 2025 at 7:30pm.

Based on the incredible 1991 manga and its sister anime, this “2.5D performance” is an adaptation of the world-famous manga and anime Pretty Guardian Sailor Moon, which has been translated into 17 languages and has only continued to grow in popularity internationally since its release. “I had been confident the show would do well in New York, but our success was even beyond what we imagined,” says producer Kumiko Yoshii

The story follows Usagi Tsukino, a girl who is secretly the superhero Sailor Moon, as she and her five best friends defeat the powers of evil. This iconic musical production will be brought to life in Chicago for the first time, and this magnanimous and colorful performance will be a feast for the senses! The show will be performed in Japanese with English subtitles and features a live score written by Go Sakabe and KYOHEI, a book written by Kaori Miura, and choreographed by Satomi Toma.

Tickets go on sale on January 31st, 2025. You can find them on Ticketmaster, ranging from $64-$120.
